QUAKE SHOCKS CONTINUE; DEATH TOLL INCREASES

At Least Twenty Italian Villages Wiped Out and Thousands Homeless.

ROME, June 30.—The earthquake which shook northern Italy yesterday continued until early to-day, with authorities predicting repetition of the shocks. Scores of persons were dead and hundreds injured. With the resumption of communication, it was expected the casualty list would increase. At least twenty villages are partly in ruins. Forty persons were dead at Vicchio, which was almost wiped out. Mirafiori also was razed and a large part of the population buried. Heavy casualties are believed to have occurred, but no accurate estimate is possible yet.
 At Olmi scores of houses were razed. Many casualties occurred. Destruction was heavy at Rebbello and Casaglia, a number of persons being buried in the latter town. Thousands are homeless. The earthquake also was felt in Turin, where it slightly damaged the Roccadi Palace. The Observatory and San Lorenzo Church in Florence were damaged. Five persons were injured in forty additional shocks which followed the early vibrations. Wounded continued to arrive in the hospitals. The Duchessa D'Aosta has assumed charge of relief work and established her headquarters in the Novella Hospital at Santa Maria.

BOMB LAID TO BLACK HAND.

Elizabeth Engelman Which Blew Up Highway Injured No One.

ELIZABETH, N. J., July 1.—Police here do not believe that the bomb explosion which damaged the highway of the four-story tenement at No. 634 Newpoint Road is a part of the threatened Bolshevik outrages planned for July 4.

No one was injured and the damage to the building was slight. Police think that it was an old-fashioned Black Hand attempt to intimidate one of the four Italian families living in the building. No trace of the materials with which the bomb was made have been found.

OFFERS NURSES PROMOTION.

Courses Offered Women Opportunity to Act as Hospital Superintendents. Commissioner Bird A. Coier of the Department of Public Charities, to-day announced two new opportunities for graduate nurses to improve their earning capacity through study. The Commissioner has provided means for nurses to take a post graduate course in Hospital Administration. This will enable women to act as hospital superintendents. Another innovation is a post graduate course for graduate nurses in Hospital Social Service, linking up the work of the hospital in restoring the sick to health with home affairs.
